Librex Newsletter - November 2015

Hi Marc-Andre,

Here's the November edition of our Librex Newsletter, which has the goal of keeping you informed about various Librex best practices and presenting you some of our new features.

New OmniPage 25K Licence @395$

We're pleased to announce the availability of a new OmniPage text extraction license to manage volumes up to 25,000 pages per month.

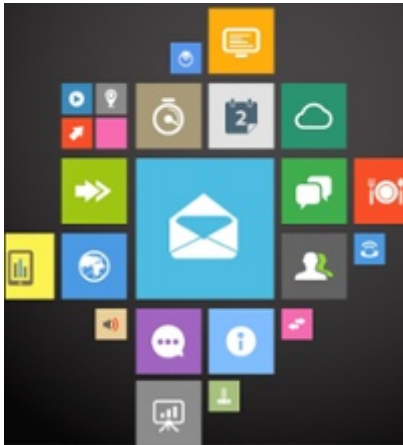

This license is offered at a third of the price of our previous entry-level OmniPage license (which is for 75,000 pages per month). Its regular price will be 495$ but it's available at the introductory price of 395$ until December 31st 2015.

The OmniPage licenses enhance the optical character recognition (OCR) success rate in comparison to the free tool that's included with Librex. They can offer a major productivity gain to your users.

Please note that this 25K license is only available for the processes at the client level (not available as a shared server license).

Contact us before December 31st 2015 to benefit from the 395$ introductory price.

Windows 10 Officially Supported

The Windows 10 operating system is now officially supported as a Librex platform. The latest versions were successfully tested internally and at a few customer sites.

When migrating to Windows 10, you shouldn't have anything to plan for your Librex clients. For your workstations that are connected to a scanner, simply validate the compatibility of their TWAIN drivers.

If you look at our recommended specifications, you'll also notice a change regarding the server's supported platforms. Previously, only the Windows Server versions were supported as the server's operating system. We've added Windows 7 / 8.1 / 10, which will help you simplify the Librex deployment and lower your infrastructure costs.

Thank you for reading our Librex newsletter. We appreciate your interest in our solution and invite you to contact us for any question.
